

ANIMAL PAINTINGS

MINIATURE PAINTINGS
BY WES AND RACHELLE SIEGRIST
VOLUME III

WHY SO TINY?

The Siegrists render nearly all their miniature paintings to the exacting standards of formal miniature art societies: small size, reduced scale and refined technique. Their exquisite paintings will not disappoint under close inspection, even through a magnifying glass! Considered gems of fine art for enhancing existing collections or starting new ones, the Siegrists' miniature paintings are fun to collect and share. All paintings featured in the artwork section of this book have been rendered in opaque watercolor and have been reproduced at actual size which is noted in inches.

A painting of two golden retrievers in shallow water. The dog on the left is looking towards the viewer with its mouth open, showing its teeth. The dog on the right is looking slightly to the right. The water is a mix of green and yellow, suggesting a shallow, sunlit area. The style is soft and painterly.

Presenting

THE ARTWORK

The following randomly presented paintings represent a diverse selection of miniature paintings by the Siegrists that feature animals. The paintings have been chosen to include a range of works from 1998 to 2014 by each of the artists.

MEET THE ARTISTS

Wes and Rachelle started their artistic career together in 1989 and were married in 1990. Together, their work has been displayed in over 700 exhibitions! They consider wildlife subjects their first love but simply enjoy painting and have been recognized with awards in an eclectic range of subject matter. The artists especially enjoy being in the field and are avid hikers with the Great Smoky Mountains National Park as their “backyard”. Their adventures are highlighted weekly by Rachelle on their blog and background insights are featured in the Siegrist newsletters.

The Siegrists

In The Field

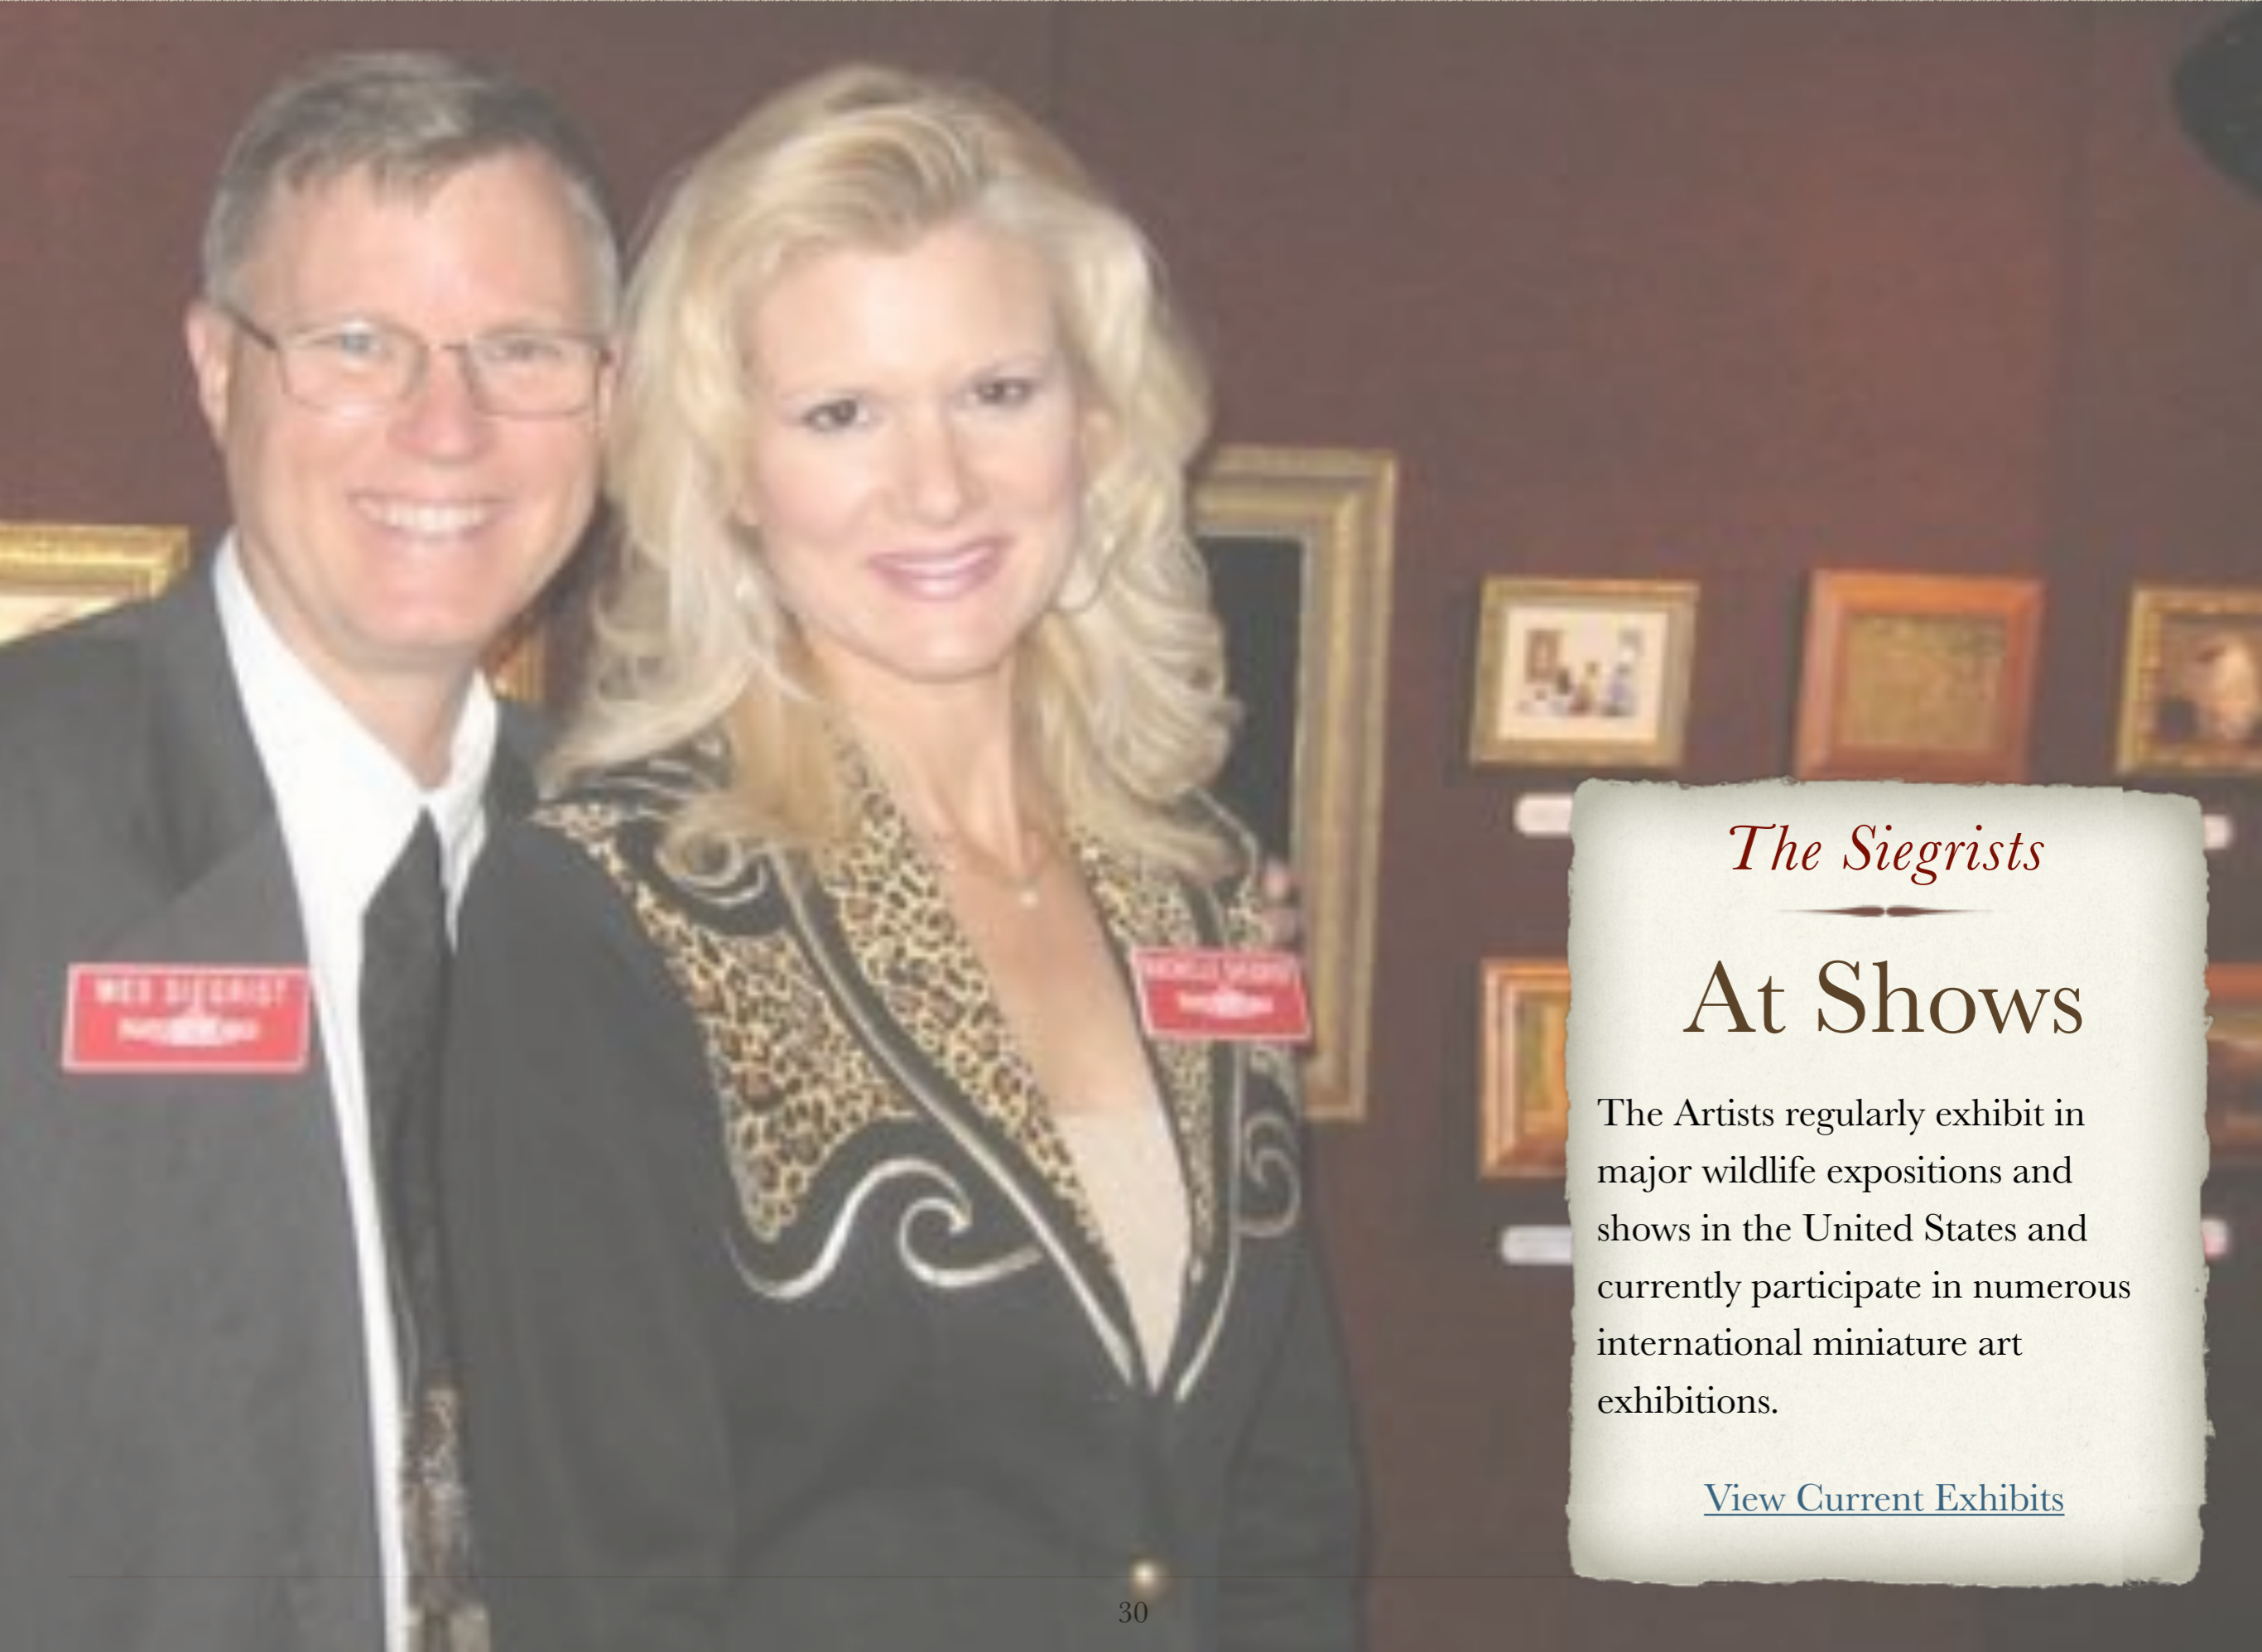

Wes & Rachelle Siegrist find inspiration everywhere and have been known for their eclectic mix of subject matter in their paintings. From their backyard to exotic locales, the grand to the minuscule can inspire them. The artists also enjoy visiting zoos, aquariums and aviaries to experience more up close and one-on-one encounters.

The Siegrists

In The Studio

The Artists have a studio inside their home where they sit side by side working just mere inches apart! Yes, they been happily married going on twenty-five years so working together is a delight and joy ... as long as the one does not shake the table too much and remembers to announce when they are about to sneeze!

The Siegrists

At Shows

The Artists regularly exhibit in major wildlife expositions and shows in the United States and currently participate in numerous international miniature art exhibitions.
